

...and Kansa Alchemy was developed to represent the magical transformation that occurs when we are grateful.

But gratefulness alone is not going to achieve all our beauty goals, so Kansa Alchemy's first product Good Hair Nutrient Complex was devised to tackle thinning hair, support proper follicular function and accelerate hair growth, increase hair thickness and strength, plus help to decrease shedding. It contains all the nutrients required to get Good Hair, hence its name.

Good Hair is a nutritional complex meaning it has a mix of vital herbs, vitamins and minerals that work in a more sophisticated, multi-layered action to address the systemic causes of hair thinning, rather than just providing extra protein for hair.

It is unique and effective as it works in three main ways:

Good Hair
Nutrient Complex
RRP: $32.99
One Month Supply

No.1 Firstly it contains all the vital nutrients the body needs to create good hair such as amino acids which help metabolise nutrients into keratin the substance of hair, and biotin which is well-known for its role in healthy hair formation.

No.2 Secondly it contains DHT blockers to decrease sensitivity to DHT which is a derivative of testosterone, a key cause of male pattern baldness or androgenic alopecia (which women suffer from too).

No.3 Plus the natural anti-androgens in Good Hair keep the hair in the growing, anagen phase, which means far less shedding, which is vital to keep hair in a thick and healthy state.

Good Hair Nutrient Complex contains over 20 carefully selected and meticulously combined essential vitamins, minerals and herbs such as such as: selenium, silica, zinc, biotin and keratin building amino acids, plus saw palmetto and pygeum africanum as well as many other actives. Each ingredient included in Good Hair has a vital role to play, its intense goodness included in the optimum quantity for maximum absorption and assimilation by the body.

Kansa Alchemy was developed by beauty industry exec turned alternative health practitioner and yoga teacher Ann-Louise Holland, who wanted to create products that made a difference, and after suffering from thinning hair herself, Ann-Louise researched the underlying problems to thinning hair and recognised it was possible to re-gain healthy hair growth. She learnt so much she thought it was madness not to pass this information on with her own line. After studying shamanism and various alternative health disciplines for ten years she knew that it isn't just products that are going to make us all beautiful, so with Kansa Alchemy she has married her beauty industry expertise with the wisdom of yoga which has a powerful spiritual philosophy that aligns with alternative healthcare, beauty and wellbeing. Kansa Alchemy, with its positive message of gratitude was launched in the US initially and has proved to be so popular it arrives in the UK this autumn with more health products and beauty gadgets in the pipeline.
