

Show grandparents your day to day, their way

Digital apps have revolutionised the way we communicate, and Famileo has used this technology to bring younger and older generations together – by creating a family newspaper.

Famileo works through an app that allows family members to add photos and messages. These are then formatted into a personalised newspaper that is posted out to a relative monthly.

Each newspaper, or gazette, includes as many as 28 messages and can be delivered around the world. The idea is to help families, no matter where they live, stay in touch with each other.

Since it was launched in France in 2015, Famileo has become a household name with around 250,000 family users and is now available in the UK.

Perfect for Christmas

A Famileo subscription is the perfect way to let your grandparents know that you're thinking of them, by sharing the joy of your daily family life in a way they can cherish.

A monthly subscription is £5.99 a month for the whole family.
